

Pilgrimage in Oaxaca, Mexico with Atum O'Kane

March 5 - 11, 2018

Journey with Atum in a region that is a marvelous blend of Spanish colonial and indigenous Mexican cultures. We will explore how local spiritual traditions have absorbed Christianity while still maintaining the integrity of their original paths. The Virgin of Guadalupe is just one example of this syncretism of native religion and European religion.

Oaxaca is a beautiful mountain pueblo offering fabulous and unique cuisine, amazing architecture, art galleries and great local handicrafts. We will stay in a lovely hotel near the town center and gather daily for teachings with Atum. Excursions will include touring Zapotec ruins, cathedrals and museums in Oaxaca and the surrounding areas, and visiting with a weaving family specializing in the famous regional textile tradition. The weather in the mountains is temperate and perfect for touring.

The pilgrimage will begin the afternoon of March 5th and end on the morning of March 11th.
